

Review of Post-Election Resources to Support Undocumented Students

At a time when many DACA and undocumented students face uncertain futures, community colleges can take steps to support Dreamers, who have contributed so much to their country, their campuses, and their communities. CCCIE is pleased to share these post-election resources, including the most recent updates from the following organizations:

Educators for Fair Consideration:

- Post-Election: What Educators Can Do to Support Undocumented Students, including steps to increase support services for undocumented students and resources to join Sanctuary School Movements
- 2016-2017 Undergraduate and Graduate Scholarships available to immigrant students, regardless of their immigration status
- Beyond Deferred Action: Long-Term Immigration Remedies that Every Undocumented Young Person Should Know About to help undocumented youth explore immigration options beyond DACA and possibly attain a more permanent status in the U.S.

National Immigration Law Center:

- FAQs about Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals which provides guidance to help individuals decide what to do with respect to DACA; however, NILC notes the information is not legal advice and urges individuals to talk with qualified immigration lawyer or a Board of Immigration (BIA)-accredited representative. You can search for an immigration lawyer using the American Immigration Lawyers Association's online directory, ailalawyer.com.
- Know Your Rights, Everyone Has Certain Basic Rights, No Matter Who is President including a list of basic rights under the U.S. Constitution which apply to undocumented immigrants and a know-your-rights card that can be printed from your computer.

United We Dream:

- 5 Important Things You Need to Know About DACA During a Trump Presidency
- Educators United to Protect DACA, Immigrants and Refugees. Pledge to commit to take action the week of January 9th and receive materials, support, and training from immigrant youth and allies to help your community.
- United We Dream Institutional Toolkit including such steps as increasing access to emergency funds for undocumented students, who have no access to Pell Grants, federal financial loans, or federal work-study programs.
- 5 Proactive Steps for College Administrators to Support Undocumented Students in Your Schools
